

Gecić Law proudly celebrates a defining milestone in the Chambers and Partners 2026 rankings, published last week. The firm records its dazzling results, marking its biggest Chambers leap yet. Gecić Law now holds rankings in four practice areas, three of which are entirely new.

A Landmark Moment for the Firm

This year's Chambers and Partners 2026 results open a bold new chapter for Gecić Law. The firm now ranks in Banking & Finance, Competition/Antitrust, Dispute Resolution, and Projects, Infrastructure & Energy, adding three new ranked practice areas in one sweeping move. That advance marks the greatest single-year Chambers leap in the firm's history.

These prestigious rankings reflect more than our legal excellence. They reflect the firm's rapid expansion into a broader, more sophisticated range of mandates and new geographies. They also reflect the trust that clients place in Gecić Law in landmark, market-first matters. As the firm's work scales up and complexity increases, its market recognition grows with it. This year's Chambers results capture that momentum with striking clarity.

The Competition/Antitrust practice continues to anchor the firm's Chambers profile. For the tenth year, Gecić Law earned a ranking in this prestigious category. That result confirms the practice's enduring strength and market standing. The team continues to handle complex matters with sharp judgment, strategic vision, and remarkable consistency. This renewed recognition reinforces a reputation built through years of standout work.

New Firm and Individual Rankings

This year, the firm's Chambers story grows much larger. Gecić Law entered Banking & Finance, debuted in Dispute Resolution, and secured a ranking in Projects, Infrastructure & Energy. Together, these three new rankings transform the firm's Chambers profile. They also showcase the breadth of the firm's expertise and experience across the legal market.

This year also brought a new individual recognition for the firm. Miloš Petaković earned an Up-and-Coming ranking in Banking & Finance. His recognition highlights rising talent and growing strength within the practice. It also adds fresh momentum to Gecić Law's expanding finance offering. This new ranking stands as another proud moment in a breakthrough year.

Gecić Law also celebrates the continued recognition of its leading lawyers. Bogdan Gecić remains ranked in Competition/Antitrust and Projects, Infrastructure & Energy, underscoring his broad expertise. Ognjen Colić affirmed his ranking in Corporate/Commercial, highlighting his strong standing in this important field. Together, these rankings reflect the depth, ambition, and distinction of the firm's team.

A Reflection of Growth, Trust & Market Confidence

Bogdan Gecić, Founding Partner, commented:

“These rankings are a wonderful recognition of the talent, commitment, and vision that drive our firm forward. We have built this step by step, with a team that cares deeply about excellence and clients who continue to place their confidence in us. We are grateful for that trust, and we look ahead with great determination and enthusiasm.”
